GCHS State Soccer Champ

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Coach John Sellmeyer's Granite City High School soccer players were heroes here Saturday night as they returned home from Normal with the state championship trophy. It was the first state crown won by a Warrior team in seven years.

The team was greeted by more than 100 fans in an impromptu rally at the GCHS gymnasium at 8 p.m. Saturday as the bus returned here.

Among those greeting the team were B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools; L. Monroe Worthen, a school board member; Ruben Mendoza of the YMCA soccer program, who was hailed by Sellmeyer as the man who developed an interest in soccer in this area; several other coaches; many parents and numerous joyful students.

Wearily But Excited
On the bus with a joyful head coach were a group of weary but excited soccer players, holding their index fingers in the air and yelling, "We're number one!"

Among that group were three players who earned the honor of being named to the all-state team—Wayne Canada, Randy Worthen and Carl Dake.

The Warriors earned the state crown, the first in soccer ever presented, by defeating New Trier West 2-1 in double overtime Saturday afternoon.

In first-round action Friday, Granite City downed Senn High School of Chicago 4-0 and New Trier West defeated La Grange 5-2 in double overtime.

Over 2,000 Attend
A crowd estimated at more than 2,000 persons witnessed the final game and cheered with such fervor that officials complained they were unable to hear even the horn used to signal time-outs and replacements.

At one point, Coach Sellmeyer was unable to make a change in his lineup for several minutes as the game continued despite constant blowing of the horn.

The soccer crown marks the fourth sport in which Granite City High School has been tops. Under Coach William Schmitt, the wrestling team was first in the state in 1965, the basketball team became the state champion under the late Lawrence McCauley in 1948, and the Granite City High School basketball team was number one in 1940 with Byron Bozarth as head coach.

First State Tourney
Coach Sellmeyer was among those who began efforts last year to start a state soccer tournament.

The Illinois High School Association denied requests for a tournament in 1971 but pledged at that time that an-

3 GC Policemen Hurt In Traffic Accident

Three Granite City police officers were injured when a patrol car driven by Ronald Selph, 26, of 2517 Benton St., and an auto driven by Boyd L. Bell, 2149 Washington Ave., backing from his driveway, were in an accident at 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Selph, who was admitted for observation following skull x-rays, and George Gallas Jr., 49, of 2901 Oregon Ave., who was released following x-rays of the spine. Anthony Eck, 2333 Wabash Ave., also received injuries. Bell was charged with improper backing.

WELCOMING CHAMPIONS HOME. Representatives of the Granite City School Board and administration were among more than 100 persons who welcomed the state champion Granite City High School soccer team home Saturday night in the Granite City High School gymnasium. Among those honored were three players named to the all-state team, Wayne Canada, Randy Worthen and Carl Dake. From left are: L. Monroe Worthen, school board member; Coach John Sellmeyer; Canada and Worthen; Assistant Coach David Ames; Dake and B. J. Davis, school superintendent.

Dobrey Drainage Delay

Three days after a major financial setback for the Dobrey Slough stormwater drainage program, petitions asking that Madison County and Nameoki Township allocate funds to aid in immediate drainage improvements for the Dobrey Slough area being circulated by residents today.

Overnight rains again threatened flooding in various parts of the slough area and the rain fall continued today. The petitions ask the county and township to supplement a $150,000 state allotment, $40,000 provided by the levee district and $20,000 pledge by Granite City to enable installation of a ditch that would drain the slough into Horseshoe Lake.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a leader of a committee that has been seeking drainage improvements for the area, said "the people are tired of waiting for study after study. Something has to be done and done now."

She said residents of the area will ask the state to revert to the original improvement plan instead of waiting for the $4.2 million project proposed by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

An overnight rainfall of 1.3 inches has been tabulated. Several streets in the area, including Angela Drive and Pine Street, were covered with water this morning.

Friday's development was a denial of the Ogilvie plan for federal emergency funds under

Meet Here on Federal Park

A plan for a U.S. bicentennial park situated between and linking Horseshoe Lake, State Park and Cahokia Mounds State Park will be the subject of a meeting at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 20, at the Granite City Army installation.

The detailed proposal for the park will be outlined during the dinner gathering. The meeting was arranged by City Clerk John Bellcoff of Madison, president, Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; Henry D. Karandjoff of Granite City, chairman, Horseshoe Lake Commission of the state of Illinois; Louis Whitsett, Nameoki Township supervisor and chairman, Parks and Recreation Committee; and Nelson G. Reed, Cahokia Society.

A joint statement by those calling the meeting follows: "In 1976, our nation is going to celebrate its 200th birthday.

Many groups throughout the country are planning celebrations of different kinds to mark this occasion.

"The National American Revolution Bicentennial Commission appointed by Presidents Johnson and Nixon, which is coordinating these efforts on a national level, has suggested that an appropriate way to commemorate this milestone would be to create a system of Bicentennial Parks.

"It has been proposed that the federal government create bicentennial complexes in each state. After 1976, the park and facilities would become state property.

"The parks that are envisioned in this system would all have recreational, educational and cultural value; yet, it is hoped that each one can be unique.

"Although this suggestion is still under study at the national level, we believe it is inevitable that a major federal and state effort will be made to commemorate the national bicentennial.

"Several groups throughout the state of Illinois have made proposals to locate the Illinois Bicentennial Park in their areas.

"Following an initial proposal which was initiated by the city of East St. Louis, a consortium of citizens is advancing a proposal that this park be located in the Cahokia Mounds State Park-Horseshoe Lake State Park complex.

"This location provides a unique setting for this facility, which can be extremely important to the economic, social and physical well-being of this region."

SCENE OF TRAIN DERAILMENT near Car-gill Road. Efforts to clear the tracks are shown in progress Sunday morning. Two members of the train crew were injured, and there was damage to the freight cargo, including new automobiles.

2 Hurt as Train Derails

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

Two trainmen were injured as three engines and eight rail cars overturned in a derailment of a Penn Central Railroad train containing 109 cars at 10:55 p.m. Saturday near Car-gill Road south of Pontoon Road, in the vicinity of the Roy DeVasher of Fairview Heights escaped apparent injury.

Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital were Bob Nations, a switchman who was on the lead engine, and Otis Powers, engineer.

Nations, 38, of Fairview Heights, suffered a possible broken left shoulder and Powers, 61, of East St. Louis, had leg injuries and contusions to both knees.

Fuel tanks ruptured on two of the engines, causing fires which were extinguished by the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Three of the overturned cars were auto carriers containing 15 new autos on each. Other rail cars included a corn syrup tank car and a hopper car.

The railroad crew told Madison County Sheriff's deputies that the train, traveling 15 to 20 miles per hour, started to veer to the left and emergency brakes were applied.

Deputies noticed that red warning flags were missing from a switch and were found later down an embankment in a drainage ditch. An investigation of the cause is under way.

The preliminary assumption was that a switch was reversed, perhaps as a prank by youngsters.

Members of the Tri-City Shrine Club already are fully aware of the medical care and rehabilitation programs at the Shrine's Burns Hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The men help to support the center with contributions. They have heard details of the various services, and have viewed slides of activities there.

But on Thursday evening, for the first time, a youthful patient aided at the Burns Center will tell them in his own words about the treatment he received there.

Anthony McCrea, nine years old, who spent 41 days at the Cincinnati hospital recovering from serious burns to both legs, will be a guest of the club, Avery Schermer, president, has announced.

New Bus Suit

Parents of Madison school children are forming a new group, The Concerned Parents and Citizens' Committee, to try to fight proposed busing in District 12.

The b-f-racial group was formed during a meeting of 200 parents Thursday night in the Madison High School auditorium.

A second meeting to reach more parents and to study the busing issue is to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the same location.

The committee plans to file a counter suit to a suit now pending in Circuit Court which could require busing. The committee's suit, which also names the Board of Education, is to be filed tomorrow, a spokesman said.

Irving M. Wiseman, an Alton attorney, has been retained by the committee for the legal fight. On Saturday, the committee held a bake sale to help raise funds for the effort.

The group's spokesman said the committee was formed after parents read an article in the Oct. 26 Press-Record noting that busing could result if parents in the West Madison and North Venice area won their suit to integrate the all-black Blair and Dunbar Schools.

The parents say they do not oppose the concept of integration. They contend that Blair and Dunbar children are receiving an education equal to that received by those in the integrated schools in Madison.

"Reasoning alone assures us that you send your children to the nearest school for educational purposes alone, and one school is as equipped to educate as another," Mrs. Donna Crook, president of the committee, said in a written statement during the weekend.

 Captain Charles James, a local trust is governed by law," the lecturer will bring out.

The guest speaker is a native

New Illinois Blue Book Is Distributed

Secretary of State John W.
 Lewis reports general distribution of 40,000 copies of the 1971-1972 Illinois Blue Book has begun.

Secretary Lewis said the new Blue Book is being printed at a savings of more than $10,000 under the cost of the 1969-1970 edition. The edition has been revised in format with the text in one column as in earlier years. Other innovations include a new typeface and texture of paper designed to make the Blue Book more readable.

Lewis said that the increased use of color photography and original water colors by Paul
 N. Norton give the book a distinctive appearance. The front-ispiece is a color photograph of the wagon wheel fixture in the house of representatives. The fixture depicts a wheel of the old covered wagons with each spoke of the wheel representing one letter of the word I-L-L-I-N-O-I-S.

End sheets are decorated with a four-color portrait of the renovated Old State Capitol building. Artwork consists of fine line drawings of the Great Seal of Illinois, the Governor's Seal, a State House silhouette and a silhouette of the National Congress.

 During the three-week course,
 Pvt. Young received training in the operating techniques of the Army's Air Defense Community Control, and Coordination Systems.

Other features in the new edition include state and federal constitutions, a story on land reclamation, new census figures, the new appropriation of legislative and congressional districts by counties, and a roster of presidents, vice-presidents and Congresses coincident with their terms.

The Illinois Blue Book is a biennial report on Illinois government. The current edition covers the 77th General Assembly and state government for the years 1971 and 1972. It is not intended to be a handbook or a current listing of state officials or officers.

Copies of the book may be obtained in person, through the Secretary of State's Shipping Department, or by writing to

The Bamba tribes, a powerful African nation, have a marriage contract which must be performed by a young man who wishes to marry a Bamba maiden. He must first send presents of money at regular intervals to his prospective bride's father for a year or more before he has reached marriageable age, and he must then work for her year. When he has finished his work period, the marriage ceremony is performed, but he is still not accepted as a genuine son-in-law until he has lived in his wife's village for a trial period of from 3 to 5 years, and his in-laws send him small gifts when they are pleased with him. When he has finally decided to accept him as a full-time son-in-law, and strongly enough, it is only after being finally accepted as a member of his wife's village, that he can then remove his wife and children to his own village.

If you too are about to enter into a marriage contract, then Hudson Jewellers is the place to help you launch this complicated legal event — because Hudson's will provide you completely authenticated information on every phase of correct Wedding Procedure.

It takes time to plan a Wedding properly and Hudson's time is at your disposal—to help make your Wedding Day the happiest day of your life! Come in to Hudson Jewellers and let's start planning now!

Workingman Has Stake in Mideast

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Editor, Copley News Service

Military men, both past and present, frequently talk of the peril facing the United States if this nation does not beef up its clout in the Mediterranean, Indian Ocean and Persian Gulf areas of the Middle East.

Liberals and even moderates who say they are more concerned with pressing needs "at home" fight this and any other expansion of American military presence abroad.

A less parochial approach by the military minded and a more realistic one by those who oppose them might succeed in lightening the load on the American — light that would prove the Mideast, particularly the Indian Ocean-Persian Gulf area, to be of vital importance to all of us.

Four facts stick out clearly in the matter of the military-political — economic importance of this area, and although Mao Tse-tung is the man who said military force is merely an extension of political objective, his words in somewhat lesser degree apply to all nations. The four pertinent facts are:

1. Production of a barrel of crude oil at the United States costs about $1.55 (42 gallons to the barrel). U. S. production runs about 3.6 million barrels a year.

2. Production of a barrel of Persian Gulf area oil runs about 15 cents.

3. About 60% of the world's oil reserves are located in the Persian Gulf.

4. The United States has about 6.5% of the world's oil reserves and at the present rate of consumption, America's share of the world's oil reserves, will have to look beyond this nation's resources, Venezuela where much of our supply comes from now, and even beyond the wildest dreams concerning Alaskan sources.

Mideast Important
Thus, in oversimplification, if you wish to drive your one, two or three automobiles, and heat your house with oil in the late '70s and beyond, the Middle East is of more than casual importance to you. And, the price is right.

True, Mideast oil is big business for U. S. big business — already a $2.8 billion American investment in the vital Persian Gulf area. And, the recent emphasis by military men on the ship-by-ship and plane-by-plane comparisons between the Soviet Union and the United States in the Mediterranean and Indian Ocean-Persian Gulf area, understandably "turns off" liberals.

However, a valid case can be made for the direct relationship of the military, political and economic aspects of U. S. presence in the Mideast — a relationship important right down to the man who needs to drive his Pinto, or Cadillac, to work and beyond.

This so-called man in the street should be aware, for instance, that it is very likely that by 1980 at least 50% of oil used in this country, will have to be imported — and the Mideast will be the major source.

Today, we get about 20% of our oil from Venezuela and very little from the Mideast, even with the big U. S. dollar investment there.

There isn't much chance, however, of getting more from Venezuela, and the Mideast is the most likely new source.

In this connection, history has shown that the nations of the Mideast, particularly those like Saudi Arabia, with long coastlines on the Red Sea, the Persian Gulf and the Indian Ocean, are strongly influenced by a military presence to match a foreign power's economic interest.

Russia Aware
Russia is quite aware of this, in its strong penetration of the Indian Ocean in the wake of Britain's withdrawal. Even Australia, building a new naval base on its Indian Ocean coast near Perth, is aware of it.

As studies done periodically by the Center for Strategic and Intelligence Studies, Georgetown University, indicate, there are endless problems concerned with getting Arab oil into a Cleveland steelworker's automobile.

Control of the Suez Canal is not as vital as it once was now that there are 200-300 ton tankers, but transportation still could be more economical. Even an Israeli 160-mile pipeline from Elat to Ashkelon on the Mediterranean coast might be useful.

Whatever the solution, both the military and big business might prove their case to the average American if they showed him how closely the military, political and economic aspects of the Mideast are linked to his everyday pleasures and necessities.

Meeting Called to Form Pontoon Advisory Group

A special meeting of the Pontoon and Village Board is to be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 22, followed by a public meeting to discuss the creation of a citizens' advisory board to assist the village board.

The board Thursday night agreed to discuss the meeting date, which regularly would have fallen on Thanksgiving, and to follow it with the public meeting.

The creation of the advisory board was urged by Trustee John Cole at the board's Oct. 26 meeting. He said the advisory group could assist the village board in better analyzing the wishes of the community in suggesting programs to meet the needs of the residents.

In other business the board passed ordinances establishing new stop signs on Marigold Drive at Tulip and Iris avenues.

Dispatchers Hired
Three new full-time dispatchers were hired for the village police department at $1.50 per hour for a 30-day trial period, and $2 per hour thereafter. They are Miss Bridgett Thurman, 19, of 4 Lily Court, Pontoon Beach; Mrs. Kathleen Smith, 21, of 2239 Edison Ave., and Mrs. Mabel Stoker, 35, of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

The resignation of Dispatcher Firdyck Bolan was accepted with regrets. Bolan cited health reasons for resigning. The board asked the village clerk to draft a letter of commendation for Bolan's services.

Leave Granted
A 90-day leave of absence, without pay, was granted for Chief Dispatcher Bob Morgan who remains unable to work because of a leg injury.

A total of $1,200 was ordered transferred from the motor fuel tax fund to the general fund, reimbursing money spent for sweeping the village streets.

The board also agreed to place $15,000 in excess funds in the motor fuel tax account and $15,000 in idle funds of the general revenue account in 90-day saving certificates. The transfers were requested by Col, who contended idle funds should be invested to draw interest rather than be kept in the village's non-interest drawing accounts.

Baby Boom Tapering Off, Project Student Decline

Copley News Service—The "baby boom" of the late 50's and 60's has apparently gone bust, at least temporarily, in Illinois classroom populations.

Projections recently compiled by the division of research, planning and development in the office of state school superintendent Michael J. Barkis, indicate that elementary enrollments, covering kindergarten through eighth grade, are expected to drop slightly this year, starting a steady if slight decline expected to continue through at least the 1977-78 school year.

The drop annually is predicted to be about 1%, or 15,000 to 20,000 pupils a year.

Dr. Leighton Wassen, of the division of research, planning, and development, said the decline, based on the number of live births which occurred in Illinois from 1959 through 1968, would be balanced by a continuing increase at the high school level through the 1976-77 school year.

In fact, in the immediate years ahead, he anticipates an accelerated rate of increase in high school enrollment as the youngsters who had been crowding the kindergarten through eighth grade classes in recent years move on to high school age.

By the 1977-78 school year, the decline is expected to start to hit the high schools, and from that year at least through the mid-80's, Dr. Wassen anticipates a gradual, consistent decline in overall high school enrollment.

Balancing the grade school drop against the high school rise in the next few years, the overall picture will continue to show a little increase, of less than 1%, through the current year to 1975-76. After that, in the next two-year period, an across-the-board decrease will begin to show up at all levels.

Dr. Wassen said his staff will not project figures for any years beyond those which can be based on actual known totals of live births in the state, since this figure in itself is variable and predicting on a basis of what would be only an educated guess would not be a reliable indicator.

2 Local 67 Officers Cite Grievance Costs

Steps have been taken by Granite City Steel Co. in recent weeks to achieve what it regards as procedures more competitive with other steel producers in the U. S.

A statement issued Friday by Weldon Brown and Marty Hart takes exception to positions taken by the local union, a subsidiary of National Steel Corp. Brown is president of United Steelworkers of America Local 67 and Hart is Local 67 treasurer and joint committeeman.

The Burch-Hart statement follows:

"As the president and the two joint committeemen of Local 67, we feel we can speak from experience on the subject of what's happened since National Steel merged with Granite City Steel.

"During the contract negotiations in August 1971, all local unions were informed that National Steel had merged with Granite City Steel Co. From that point on, the negotiations really got tough.

"The pension, insurance and pay rates were already negotiated by our International Union. So we were fighting to get to our agreed-to schedule, incentives and local working conditions.

"The company made a determined effort to eliminate our agreed-to schedules and other local working conditions. But in the final hour, the company backed off its position and we were able to keep what we had negotiated over the past 25 years.

"After the company signed the contract, presumably in good faith, they started their program—slowly at first but gradually gaining momentum—in the direction of depriving the employees of their rights under the contract.

"To plan and to put into effect this program, National Steel promoted Paul Walter to vice-president-industrial relations and John McCreary to manager of industrial relations and sent them to Granite City.

"The company is busy impressing the public by planning in the final hour, the company backed off its position and we were able to keep what we had negotiated over the past 25 years.

"We know how much busier they are in the plant. They are telling us that the way the company and union has interpreted the contract and agreements for the past 25 years is completely wrong.

"Now they tell us that they will interpret the contract and tell us how it's going to be. 'Within a thirty-day period, the company issued 96 employees from our local union disciplinary time off ranging from three to seven days loss of pay.

"Many of these were given to employees who have 25 to 45 years' service with the company who have never been reprimanded in all those years of service.

"The reason the company gave this discipline was the employees did not work on Saturday or did not work more than 40 hours during the week. Some employees did not produce enough work to satisfy the company even though they did twice the work their standard called for.

"If National Steel tells you to do something even if it is in direct contradiction to the contract or other signed agreements, they say you are required to do it.

"If you don't, you are insubordinate and disciplinary action will be taken against you up to and including discharge. If you do the work they want, they say they will file a grievance.

"This may not sound too unreasonable to some people but let us tell you about a conversation with the president of the local union at Great Lakes Steel plant in Detroit, Mich. This plant is also owned by National Steel.

Newspapers Role in the Classroom Is Explored at Teachers Workshop

"You teach the same skills with a different twist," Alfred J. Wilson, principal of Emerson Elementary School, told a teachers' workshop convened at the Travelodge in Joliet, Ill.

Wilson was explaining the techniques of using newspapers in the classroom to about 150 teachers and administrators attending the classroom teachers workshop sponsored by the Bureau-News of Elgin and the Herald-News of Joliet.

Principal speakers at the all-day session were the local educator and Dr. Edward F. DeRoche, professor and chairman of the Curriculum and Administration Department of Marquette University's School of Education.

Both are authors of books explaining the use of newspapers in classrooms.

Serving as moderator was Dr. Donald D'Amico, superintendent of School District 86 in Joliet.

Wilson has taught in the Granite School District for 10 years and has six years experience using the newspaper as an educational tool.

He has published reports of studies of classroom newspaper use and published an 80-page study guide, "Exploring the Newspaper in the Classroom."

Wilson heads the only school in the United States that is involved in the Classroom program. The newspaper is used in kindergarten through sixth grade and even in the educable mentally handicapped classes.

"An enthusiastic proponent of the use of newspaper in teaching, Wilson told those at the workshop that it can be adapted to all grade levels and most subjects.

"For the first three years I printed a newspaper to supplement the text. Then I turned it around and now use the text to supplement the newspaper," he explained.

The youngsters in the Emerson School have "exceeded" the expectations of their teachers," Wilson declared. "There's a lot of action going on."

He showed how the children "play the stock market," keep sports statistics, prepare circular graphs from the statistics and make weather graphs based on information in the newspapers.

Wilson described how they prepare reports for the class

"This plant employs approximately 8,000 steelworkers and has over 1,000 terminations each year, more than 2,000 grievances and more than 1,000 arbitrations cases each year.

"When Paul Walter was confronted with this information, he admitted that these figures were fairly accurate.

"The local union has arbitrated or has scheduled to arbitrate more grievances since the merger than our local has arbitrated in the last twenty years.

"At a cost to our Local of between $300 to $1,000 for each case arbitrated, it is simple arithmetic to see that it won't be long to put our local in financial trouble.

"It's a frustrating feeling to know that you are right but you lose because you can't financially afford to arbitrate all the cases you want to.

"The most recent attempt by the company in their hell-bent determination to break the union was to terminate our recording secretary, Jim Kelahan, because of his union activities. We're sorry, Mr. Walter, but this will be adjudicated to the effect of Mr. Kelahan's full reinstatement. And in the meantime you have strengthened our union."

"We think we can speak for all the local unions at Granite City Steel when we say we have and we will stand ready to live by our contract. But we will not lay down and play dead for National Steel or anyone else. As it was once said 'We will live on our feet before we will live on our knees.'

"National Steel may break our union financially but they will never break our spirit."

"There are too many two-by-four teachers," the professor stated. "They are trapped between two covers of the book and the four walls of the classroom. The action is out there, and that's why we must bring the 'out there' to the classroom."

In his summarization, Dr. D'Amico, moderator, said the two speakers represented the epitome of making instruction meaningful and fun for the kids.

He noted "one of the most important aspects of teaching is the transfer of learning. The concept appears to lend itself nicely to using newspapers in the classroom. It focuses on the teacher's strategy," he said.

Others addressing the workshop were John G. Whyte, director of community services, Herald-News, Joliet; and John Satterlee, Illinois representative, Copley Department of Education, Springfield.

William F. Blackburn, Herald-News publisher, welcomed the participants, and a musical interlude was provided by Madrigals from Joliet Township West Campus, directed by Roy Johnson.

The seminar was the eighth annual program of its type to be sponsored for classroom teachers, Wilson said.

Bicentennial Planning Set For Nov. 18

Grass-roots planning for the American Revolution Bicentennial will be launched at the Illinois Bicentennial Forum in Springfield on Nov. 18.

Representatives from Illinois' 102 counties and 98 of the state's largest cities are expected at the forum, sponsored by the Illinois Bicentennial Commission, according to IBC Chairman Andrew McNally III.

Granite City has been invited to send a representative to the meeting.

The IBC was created by the state legislature in 1972 to help plan and coordinate Illinois' commemoration of the 200th anniversary of American independence.

"This forum should spark people to think about what they can do in their own communities," McNally said.

The purpose of the meeting is to encourage all communities across the state to organize local Bicentennial committees and develop programs for the Bicentennial year, 1973-78.

Speakers, movies and information packets will be featured at the forum. Other items on the agenda include an explanation of the national Bicentennial goals and how they relate to Illinois' suggestions for organizing local committees and ideas for community projects.

The meeting will convene at 1:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn East, 3100 S. 31st St. An informal coffee hour will follow.

Among the resource people attending will be: Delbert C. Black, American Revolution Bicentennial Commission regional coordinator; Dr. Samuel A. Lilly, IBC executive director; and several IBC members, including William Alderfer, Illinois state historian, and Dr. Milton Thompson, director of the Illinois State Museum.

Exam for Assessment Supervisor Is Set

Applicants for appointment as supervisor of assessments for Madison County will take an examination at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the meeting room of the Madison County Board.

Anyone interested in the post may apply at the county clerk's office in the courthouse at Edwardsville prior to the examination.

The supervisor of assessments post became vacant upon the recent death of Dale Hill of Madison, Ill. Hill filled the office from the time it was created in 1970 until his death.

American Steel 25-Year Club Banquet Nov. 29

The 25-Year Club at American Steel Foundries will enroll ten new members at its 29th annual meeting and banquet in the cafeteria of the Granite City High School, Wednesday, Nov. 29.

The new members will receive engraved watches from M. B. Milonski, works manager at the local plant. With their enrollment, the 25-Year Club membership will be 445, including 240 honorary members. Ten club members died within the year.

The club was organized in 1944 for the purpose of promoting good fellowship among employees with long service at the local plant. The 25-Year Club presently is headed by K. V. Bryan, East Alton.

Members from Granite City include: Robert T. Hagnauer, Patrick Doolin in Navy Training in Florida.

SIUE Materials Center Extends Campus Hours

The Instructional Materials Center, a service for educators of exceptional children in Metro-East, has extended its hours on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and greatly expanded its holdings.

Emmet Beetner, coordinator of the university's special education faculty, said the collection of materials is about 50% larger than last year.

"We exist to serve as a resource for special educators in the university's area and for students at SIUE," Beetner said. "We have an extensive holding of professional texts, specialized periodicals and instructional equipment and materials. Everything is applicable to exceptional children in general, but particularly to children who are emotionally disturbed, learning disabled, educable mentally handicapped or gifted."

The facility, part of the university's Special Education Center on the Edwardsville campus, has a study area where materials may be used. Materials cannot be checked out because of a high demand. Holdings will be distributed soon to area special educators.

The Instructional Materials Center will now be open from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays and from 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays as well as during its former hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, Beetner said.

Lutheran North Wins 13-0 in Last Madison Home Grid Game of Year

By ROY JACKSON
MHS Football Writer
In the words of Madison Head Football Coach Al Vonder Haar, the "inexperienced" outmanned Trojans suffered their sixth loss of the season against two wins Saturday afternoon as they hosted the Lutheran North Crusaders on the MHS field.
The Crusaders showed their experience early in the first quarter as End Terry Fluri gathered in a Madison punt and ran 40 yards for a touchdown.
The extra point attempt, a kick, was off target, and at the end of the first period it was Lutheran North 6, Madison 0.
The second quarter found Madison carrying out 13 of 15 plays for a total of 47 yards to the visitors' 17.
Madison also held onto the ball for most of the second half of the game. The Trojans' determination to score, however, was short on several occasions by the Lutheran defense.
As the fourth quarter began, Madison still had the ball and advanced 33 yards, only to lose 34.
Back Jim Williams of the Crusaders climaxed a short drive with a 10-yard TD run, making the score 12-0.
The extra point kick by End John Bahbrink was good, putting the game beyond Madison's reach with only three minutes remaining.
Coach Vonder Haar said, "I think we played well, but we were outmached before the game started, experience-wise. It was our inability to capitalize on situations, besides our inexperience that cost us the game. And we're undermanned; there are 13 players left out of the original 40 who started the squad in September. Everybody's out with injuries."

Key Game Is Next -- GCHS Loses Non-Loop Football Contest, 9-6

By SCOTT HARRISON
GCHS Football Writer
Unavoidably looking ahead to Friday night's vital Southwestern Conference game with Belleville West, the Granite City High School gridiron Warriors were outscored 9-6 Friday by a strong visiting team, the Jefferson City, Mo., Jays. GCHS is 5-1 in the league and 6-3 overall, while Belleville West is 2-0 and 7-1.
The non-conference game against Jefferson City gave the Warriors the opportunity to test needed changes before their final game of the 1972 season this week.
All of Friday's scoring was compressed into the first half.
Brad Hiles began the game with a heavy kickoff that went into the end zone, giving the Jays possession on their 20-yard line.
The visitors scored on the first play of the game, 175-pound senior Halfback Terry Stember breaking free for a 35-yard touchdown run. A kick for the extra point failed.
Warrior Gary Lively returned the Jays kick to the GCHS 40 and the host team drove immediately for a tying score on six series of downs.
It had appeared that Granite City had halted on the enemy 33. Faced with a punting situation but just yards from a first down, GCHS lined up for the punt.
Surprising fans and the Jefferson City defense, punter Walter Milton, a halfback, threw a short pass to End Tom Schooley, who gained the yardage essential to keep the drive alive.
The march was completed when Quarterback Clay Winfield threw a five-yard TD pass to End Mike Martinez.
The Warriors tried a kick for the extra point but it failed, leaving the score deadlocked 6-6.
In the second quarter, with less than a minute remaining, the Jays advanced to the GCHS 27-yard-line and added three points on a field goal by Fullback Jerry Rathel.
The Warriors received the second half kickoff but found themselves unable to muster more than one offensive threat during the half.
Advancing as far as the visitors' nine-yard line early in the fourth period, the Warriors were hit with a five-yard delay-of-game penalty and the Jays' pass rush then decked the quarterback for a loss.
The Jefferson City squad brought its own cheering section featuring white gloves and a small but lively band which swung back and forth. The enthusiastic group not only supported the Jays verbally and visually but also provided considerable entertainment for the local fans.
Attention now focuses on Friday night's game here against Belleville West and the Warriors' hopes of a conference title which has eluded them since 1946.
Past injuries have had an effect on the Warriors' prospects. Dale Williams, Quarterback Dave Dembeck and Walt Reinhardt are among those who have been hobbled by injuries, putting an added burden on the running of Jon Stagner and the passing of Winfield.
All on the team agree that the next game will be the most important of the year.

Cougars Settle for 2-2 Tie, Eye NCAA Soccer Tourney

Pride, individual and team are very important intangible factors in sports, both amateur and professional. The members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team proved that they have pride Saturday afternoon at Akron, Ohio, where they settled for a 2-2 tie.
Going into the game against the Zip kickers of the University of Akron, the Cougars of Coach Bob Guelker knew that they had a lead-pipe cinch bid to a berth in the NCAA Midwest regional tournament all sewed up.
Akron, which had appeared to be an overwhelming favorite for one of the three other spots in the regional, had lost Wednesday to Cleveland State, 1-0, and knew that nothing less than a tie or a victory over the Cougars would rescue its chances. Consequently, the Zips of Coach Bill Killen came out snarling and battling and ripping into the Cougars as if the national championship was at stake on the game's outcome.
The Zips' intense and bitter play paid off at 24:30 minutes in the first half when converted goalie, Bosville Salmon, playing at a wing, blasted the ball in past Cougar Rick Benben.
The Akron players committed 21 fouls to 10 in the first half and ended up with 38 for the game.
Upset Sensed
The large crowd, at this point, sensed that an upset was in the making. And, from a very practical standpoint, such as don't take chances because a player might be injured and lost for the upcoming tournament games, the Cougars couldn't have been faulted too much if they just played to keep the score down. But they didn't.
There was this matter of pride. At 3:30 in the second half, the Cougars tied it up as Tom Twellman took a pass from Kevin Howe and zipped the ball past the Zips' goalie, Bob Hey. At this point, the game's tide seemed to favor the Cougars, but here old Lady Luck entered. At 7:50 into the final 45 minute half, Akron's outside left, Joe Bartolomeo, a junior from Toronto, Canada, put a toe into the ball past the outstretched fingertips of Benben. And the Zips led, 2-1.
The Cougars' game to tie the Zips was obvious. Hang on to play defense, defense and more defense.
It almost worked. But the Cougars, constantly taking the game to the Zips, tied it up at 35:15 into the second half when Tom Galati took a pass from Mike Boland and creased the nets for the deadlock. In the second half, the Cougars outshot the Zips, 16 to 6.
Two Overtimes
In the two five-minute overtimes, Akron again was obviously happy to settle for a tie. SIUE took eight shots on goal to the Zips four. It was the Cougars' third tie in their 7-0 undefeated season. Akron finished its regular season with a 8-2-2 record. The Zips have yet to beat the Cougars over four seasons.
For the entire 100 minutes of play, the Cougars took 36 shots-off-goal to the Zips' 20. In corner kicks the Cougars had a 12-5 advantage.
Despite a 38-24 foul advantage Akron posted over SIUE it was the Cougars' defensive ace, Denny Driscoll, who was ban-

Cougars. With 6 Vets. See Improved Season Which Opens on Dec. 2

Still lacking that towering big man, Coach Jim Dudley has been putting his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball charges through heavy practice sessions preparing for the season opener Dec. 2, against the University of Wisconsin at Madison. It will be the first time the Cougar cagers have played a Big Ten Conference foe.

Now, after nearly a month of tough workouts, Dudley feels confident that the Cougars will vastly improve last season's 5-21 record. It will be Dudley's third campaign as SIUE's head basketball coach. In his initial year, the Cougars posted their first winning season, 15-11.

Greeting Dudley when workouts started in mid-October and looking good in the drills since have been six lettermen, including the Cougars' one-two scorers guards Tony Johnson and Denny Throneburg. Johnson, one of the nation's best collegiate guards, averaged 17.3 points a game. He also logged the most playing time, a total of 585.59 minutes. Throneburg averaged 13.9 points over 23 games. He lost some playing time due to an operation on his knee. Johnson is 6 feet and throneburg stands 6'3.

The four other returning veterans are 6-5 Sam Holmes, 6-4 Roy Wittloft, 6-3 Frank Ramsey and 6-2 Jerry Blandow. This quartet, Dudley feels, will give him a valuable, experienced "bench".

Looking very good in practice so far have been two members of the junior varsity, 6-8 Steve Hutchison and 6-4 guard Thurman "Butch" Ferree. "Butch," who put on about 20 pounds working this summer, should help us at the post and rebounding," predicted Dudley.

He said also that Ferree would see a lot of play.

Three new faces figure prominently in Dudley's hopes for the season: Harold Thomas, a six-foot junior who was red-shirted last year because of a knee operation, rugged 6-4 Leon Wright and 6-6 senior Terry Carlson.

Two others up from the JV squad and looking good in drills are sophomores Terry Fraley, 6-2, and Mike Van Hecke, 5-9.

Dudley is also excited about his six freshman recruits. "Without a doubt this bunch has to be the best freshmen crop in our short varsity basketball history here at SIUE," he said. Leading the group is 6-4 John Strubberg, who averaged 30 points per game his senior year at Salveille's St. Henry Prep. He's a native of Union, Mo. Another fine Missouri player is 6-3 Greg Wolk of Crystal City, also a standout baseball player.

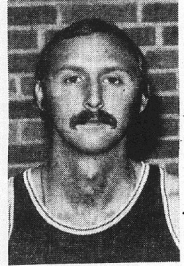

The four other fresh cagers are 6-3 Jim Olesky, 6-2 Tom Howard, 6-2 Ron Roundtree and 6-2 Mark Weyen. Olesky played for Chicago's St. Patrick High and led the Suburban Catholic League in scoring with a 23 points per game average. Howard, from Cahokia, has looked good in drills and "could be a real sleeper," Dudley predicts.

It's Roundtree, however, who played his prep basketball at Jopka, in the extreme southern part of Illinois, who has Cougar fans buzzing in anticipation. He averaged 29.5 points through three years of high school and his single game high of 48 points was scored against no less than powerhouse Meridian, which finished second in the small school tourney at Champaign-Urbana this past spring. His prep scoring average from the floor was a fantastic 51%. Weyen, a star for Gillespie High, suffered an early injury and may not play until around Christmas.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Dudley frankly says Carlson and Wright will make the big difference and "turn it around for us this season." Wright, a transfer from Danville Junior College and a native of Chicago, is a tremendous jumper. He has quick hands and is a fine rebounder. His quick hands resulted in an average of nine "seals" a game at Danville as well as leading the team in scoring and rebounding. Carlson, Dudley says, is a real fine passer and shooter. He played his prep basketball at Moline. The young coach predicts: "If Wright and Carlson come through like I expect they will, we could be tough."

The 1973 Volkswagen is still $1999*

A bargain is a bargain.

While you can see the new 1973 Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money.

A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car. 24 months or 24,000 miles.

But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our incredibly finicky factory inspection, over 1100 inspectors poring over more than 5,000 parts. (It sounds compulsive, but it's the best way to reach perfection.)

And now, there's our new VW Computer Diagnosis system. Meaning literally what it says: a brand new computer that's been installed, or soon will be, in our service area ready to be hooked up to your car. The most advanced service system in the world, it checks vital service parts, via sensors and, precludes built-in critical errors, and spells the results out in plain English. People should have it spgood.

Consider also our legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing.†

Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

And this will be done free of charge. ### MORE ABOUT Anthony Schermer's Men's and Boys' Shop, 1910 Delmar Ave.

The Marshall School second grade pupil is one of five children of Mrs. McCrea who are living at home.

Anthony had lain in a room at St. Elizabeth Hospital since he was severely burned with flaming gasoline on June 2, until Sept. 13 when he was flown by chartered plane to the Shriner facility in Ohio.

He had undergone six operations, but his condition was poor and coordinated efforts were made to transfer him to the center, which specializes in treatment of burn victims.

His recovery was swift and physicians at the Shriners' Hospital regarded Anthony's progress there as "astounding." He returned home Oct. 23, two full months before doctors earlier had believed he would be ready for home care.

Anthony still must follow strict exercise routines, twice daily, which allow the muscles in his injured legs to stretch and develop, his mother reports.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

If you need MEN'S WEAR, now is the time to buy top quality clothing at drastically reduced prices. After 69 years in Granite City, FLEISHMAN'S have decided to go out of business. This decision to close the store came about because of health problems of Mr. Fleishman who no longer desires to subject himself to the rigors and pressures that the business requires, and therefore came to the reluctant and sad decision to retire. The brand names, the prices and FLEISHMAN'S reputation for selling quality clothing and furnishings makes this the most important sale of its kind in many years. We desire to drastically liquidate our inventory as quickly as possible.

MORE ABOUT

annual statewide competition would begin in 1972. The Warrior victory Saturday puts the team's name at the top of the IHSA's soccer rolls as the first state soccer champions in Illinois history.

The Warriors finished the season with a record of 21 wins, one loss and two ties. Prior to an Oct. 11 loss to Collinsville, the team had not been defeated since December 1970. During the 1971 season, the Granite City team was undefeated with 19 wins and one tie.

Championship Game
In the championship game, the New Trier Cowboys of Northfield took an early lead as Dave Patterson scored after eight minutes of the game. Patterson's kick was deflected by Warrior goalie Tom Clark but caught the right corner of the net. The Cowboys led 1-0 at halftime.

Doug Sheridan tied the score at 11 minutes into the second half with a head shot on a pass by Tony Valencia.

At the end of regulation play, the score was tied at 1-1, necessitating the first five-minute overtime.

Saves Possible Loss
Clark nabbed the ball out of the air in what Sellmeyer described as "a great save" in the first overtime to keep the Warriors in contention. A shot by Wayne Canada missed a side goal post by only six inches at the end of the period, so a second overtime was called.

Halfway through the final overtime, Warrior Ted Gegus kicked the ball to midfield. It was picked up there by Worthen, who made a fast pass to Canada.

Canada outran the defending fullbacks and hit it with his knee, knocking it over the goal.

Sellmeyer then put an extra defender in the lineup to help hold the lead until the final horn.

Game Statistics
The Warriors led in shots on goal 13-9 while the Cowboys had the edge in corner kicks, 4-2. Fifteen penalties were called against the Granite City players and New Trier was called for 14.

Clark defended the Warrior net for the entire game and made eight saves.

In Friday's game, the Warriors kept the Senn High School Bulldogs scoreless and dominated the game with 15 attempts at the goal while Senn had seven.

Down Senn Bulldogs
Granite City also led in corner kicks 6-4 and had 12 penalties called while the Bulldogs had 23.

Worthen was the first to score at seven minutes, Dake assisting. Harvey Breckner scored at 24 minutes into the half, assisted by Worthen.

Clark made another difficult save at the start of the second half to keep the Warrior 2-0 lead and, at five minutes into the final half, Canada scored on a pass from Phil Hill.

The final point was made by Dave Wolf at 19 minutes into the half with an assist from Breckner.

Clark made five saves in the first three-fourths of the game and goalie Bill Schneider, who defended the Warrior net in the final quarter, was credited with stopping one shot.

Kenneth Long, public information officer for the St. Louis Army Engineer District, said the project is being opposed as a non-emergency, "since it is original rather than repair work."

He said the Army Engineer Corps intends to finance Dobrey Slough work through funds appropriated for hillside drainage-interior flood control.

No Way Lambert Can Be Expanded Enough to Keep Pace -- Saunders

Continued confidence in the plan for a major St. Louis metropolitan area airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., was voiced to the Press-Record Friday by Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority.

Saunders commented, "The results of the airport voting Tuesday reinforce what even some Missourians have said. The referendum was strictly a 'motherhood' issue and no other outcome could have been expected."

"The way the ballot was worded, anything up to a 100% 'save Lambert' vote would not have been particularly surprising. It is important to keep in mind that such a 'popularity contest' in no way changes the basic facts. They remain plain and clear."

"First, a referendum was not needed to save Lambert. It will continue to be the St. Louis area's major airport for the next decade."

"By the early 1980s, however, Lambert simply will not be able to handle the area's needs."

"The challenge is to have a second airport ready by that time, or for St. Louis to accept second-place status in other cities as a major air transportation center. There is no way that Lambert can be expanded to modern airport standards."

"The only options are the Waterloo site or one in Missouri somewhere west of Wentzville—nearly 50 miles from Clayton."

Chairman of the Airport Authority is Robert B. Lamkin. Members are Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City and William S. Badgley, Theodore H. Dressel and Erwin A. Hankamer.

He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with right shoulder and left knee injuries and was released following x-rays. He was charged with reckless driving.

Farmers Welcome Walker Support of Tax Freeze

Illinois farmers welcome the pledge by Governor-elect Daniel Walker to support the proposed real estate property tax freeze, Harold B. Steele, Illinois Farm Bureau president, said Friday.

Steele spoke on behalf of the board of directors of the Illinois Agricultural Association, the state-wide Farm Bureau, meeting in Bloomington. He said: "Illinois farmers have worked diligently with Illinois governor and legislators of both political parties, in efforts that have spanned more than a generation, to move toward a just and equitable means of financing state and local government."

"Within the past few years they have seen a great deal of progress in transferring part of the burden from real and personal property to other sources of revenue. It is gratifying to hear that our new governor has pledged to continue in this direction."

Steele said that he had not had an opportunity to discuss specific proposals for government financing with Governor-elect Walker since the election earlier this week. However, Steele said he was confident that Illinois farmers and their Farm Bureau organization would have an opportunity in the near future to talk about this and other problems facing Illinois agriculture with the new governor and his staff.

Walker's statement that he would support the proposed freeze on real estate property taxes in the upcoming special session of the Illinois General Assembly came in a post-election news conference held in Chicago.

35 Area Men Report For Draft Exams

Thirty-five young men from the Quad-City area reported for physical examinations for the Selective Service System Friday morning.

Examination calls for young men in the Alton and Edwardsville areas are scheduled for Nov. 21. Fifty-seven men from Alton have been called for examination and 48 from Edwardsville are to report.

Also pending are induction calls for seven young men from Alton, four from Edwardsville and six from the Quad-Cities, all to report Nov. 21.

The lottery number for inductions remains frozen at 95 for those born before 1953. For physical examinations, those with lottery numbers of 65 or lower who were born in 1953 before 1953 with lottery numbers of 90 or lower may be called.

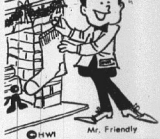

The December draft quotas were issued Friday with two men from the Quad-Cities, two from Alton and three from Edwardsville to report for induction Dec. 6. On that date 17 men from the Quad-City area, 21 from Alton and 18 from Edwardsville are to take physical examinations.

Lottery cutoffs in December remain the same as November for those born before 1953, but the limit for examinations for those born in 1953 group was increased to 70.

State to Initiate Park Programs During Winter

Copley News Service

"Springfield — Don't put the tent away yet, Horace: a bivouac in a bilzard can be a real blast."

At least, so says the Illinois department of conservation, and it has a new program underway to try and convince campers they ain't seen nothing yet if they haven't tried the great outdoors when it's the great low-zero.

Main thrust of the new approach this year will be at the Rock Cut State Park which has the right kind of climate, the terrain, and the potential campers all available.

If it works out well there, according to Chuck Tamminga of the department's division of parks and memorials, it will be expanded into other suitable areas next year.

Dave Salley, the nature interpreter at the state park is presently working with Rock Valley Community College to establish a program of winter camping, cross-country skiing and related events.

Plan Winter Carnival
To further focus on winter in the state parks, a winter carnival has been set at Rock Cut for Feb. 17 and 18.

A new hiking trail, a little less than a mile long, also has been cut out at the park, and guides for following it will be available there.

Dean Campbell, of the special events division of the department, said other activities the department would like to foster in future for winter recreation would be ice-boating, sail-skiing and winter canoe activities but implementing some of these would require additional funds or trained personnel.

Under consideration for this winter, Campbell said, is a program for do-it-yourself kayaks. The little boats, developed by Eskimos and obviously well adapted for winter use, can be purchased in kit form, and instruction on how to assemble the kayak would be given by Salley, who also would instruct the pseudo-Eskimo in how to use his kayak for greatest enjoyment and safety.

The idea behind all this, Campbell said, is to try to show the urban dwellers who make up the majority of Illinois' residents, that many of the state parks are beautiful in winter, and with some instruction in the "how-to" department, can be comfortably enjoyed at a time when there is far less crowding than in peak seasons.

Illinois Power Advances Anti-Pollution Research

Illinois Power Co. and a number of other North American utilities are entering into the third phase of a research program aimed at reducing air pollution from utility boilers.

The companies are helping to support the development of the B&W-Esso system to reduce emissions of sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxides from power plants.

Plans for the third phase of the program include the installation of a full size $15,000,000 demonstration system to be installed by American Electric Power Co. to reduce emissions from a 150,000 kilowatt, coal-fired boiler at its Tannara Creek Station.

Babcock & Wilcox has been authorized to confirm the technical feasibility for the unit and to prepare a design for the demonstration unit before the end of 1972.

A final decision on construction of the unit will be made early in 1973. Based on this schedule, construction could start early in 1973 and be completed in late 1974.

The B&W-Esso process utilizes an electrostatic precipitator for controlling particulate emissions and a dry sorbent for controlling sulphur dioxide and nitrogen oxide emissions. The system is installed between the boiler flue gas outlet and the stack.

It provides advantages in that the process reduces the nitrogen oxide and sulphur dioxide emissions simultaneously and also minimizes the problem of disposing of spent material.

Because it is a dry process, water consumption and the potential for water pollution are reduced and the flue gas temperature is maintained so that stack gas buoyancy is not adversely affected.

Product gas from the process is suitable for the production of usable sulphur or sulphuric acid. Sale of these products could partially offset the system's capital and operating costs.

The research and development program for the process has been conducted by Babcock & Wilcox and Esso Research and Engineering and financed in part by participating electric utility companies. The project began in July, 1968.

Illinois Power also is testing a new catalytic oxidation process at its 100,000-kw Number 4 Unit at the Wood River Power Plant, designed to remove 85% of the sulphur dioxide emissions and most particulates. The tests, expected to require a year or more, are being managed by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency, which shared the cost of the unit with Illinois Power Co.

"We hope that in these regional symposiums, we not only will alert Illinois subcontractors to the shuttle program, but will be able to outline the type of work and material we need, our engineering design requirements, the product quality necessary, and our proposed delivery schedules," he said.

Hello explained that firm interested in working on shuttle program must meet stringent requirements of cost, quality, and schedule. All of the subcontracting will be subject to approval by NASA's Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Texas, and most will be subject to competitive bid.

Initial requests for proposals on subcontract work are expected to be issued after the first of the year, and will be increased a gradual rate during 1973 and 1974.

NASA selected North American Rockwell to develop, build, and test the Shuttle orbiter system—a six-year program at an estimated cost of approximately $2.6 billion during that time span. Hello explained that "more than 50% of the work will be subcontracted to firms throughout the country."

The Space Shuttle transportation system is expected to be operational in the early 1980's. It will provide a significant cost savings in launching, maintaining, and retrieving space payloads, and satellites for remote sensing of earth resources.

In addition, Hello pointed out, the cargo carrying area of the Shuttle orbiter, which measures 60 feet in length and with a 15-foot diameter, will be capable of carrying communications and navigation satellites for eventual placement in geosynchronous orbit.

The six-year contract with North American Rockwell calls for the building of two test vehicles and three operational spacecraft.

NOVEMBER BRIDE. Mrs. Robert Lee Douglas, the former Miss Cynthia Ruth Evanoff, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evanoff, 11 West Wilson Park Drive. She was married Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church of Madison.

Cynthia Evanoff Becomes Mrs. Robert L. Douglas

Miss Cynthia Ruth Evanoff became the bride of Robert Lee Douglas in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

The Rev. Paul Davis performed the double ring ceremony at seven o'clock.

Phyllis Vance presided at the organ for Jerry Doyle, who sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song," "We've Only Just Begun" and "A Time For Us."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Evanoff, 11 West Wilson Park Drive. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas, reside at the Canal Motel on Rural Route One, Granite City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white sate pead gown designed with an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace, featuring a high neckline and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists.

The very full skirt was accented with lace appliques and a deep ruffle of Chantilly lace encircled hemline, and she held a cascade of white 'mums, pom poms, daisy points and variegated ivy.

Maid of honor, Miss Tina Acosta, and bridesmaids, Miss Janis Fetherbridge and Miss Carol Douglas, a sister of the groom, were gowned in identical dresses created in ivory and orchid chiffon.

Venise lace forming a delicate bib effect was enhanced with orchid ribbon and tiny rosebuds and the ribbon lace trim was repeated on the cuffs of the long sleeves.

The full length A-line skirt terminated in a wide ruffle at the hemline. Each girl carried a bouquet of grape and white flowers interspersed with ivy to form a basket effect.

William Rutledge served as best man. Dave Douglas and David Staggs, brothers of the bride and groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Steve Evanoff and Jack Douglas, also brothers of the bride couple.

Mrs. Evanoff, mother of the bride, selected a formal length gown of pink tulle designed with an overskirt of white Nottingham English lace. The long sleeves, yoke and high neckline were fashioned in matching lace and her accessories were white.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Douglas, wore a floor length dress in silver and lavender knit complemented with silver accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Presiding at the guest book were Robin and Jean Green.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the Canal Motel Lounge on Friday evening.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. Mr. Douglas works at the Canal Motel and also for the State of Illinois.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride and groom will make their home in Granite City.

Michael J. Bakalis, state superintendent of public instruction, who announced the formation of a special task force on adult education to help Illinois meet its constitutional responsibility of providing for the "educational development of all persons to the limit of their capacities."

Bakalis said the new state constitution makes it clear that education is not the "exclusive domain of children." "The objective now," the school official said, "is to provide each person with opportunities to progress to the limit of his abilities."

He stressed that objective applies not just to children but also "to adults who, in countless instances, need, deserve and can obviously profit from expanded educational opportunities."

Bakalis said the task force is to develop a unified approach to the state's adult education programs which now are administered by a complex of local and national public and private organizations. He said the task force also will search for improved methods of funding adult education.

New Finances Needed
"If we rely solely on our current methods of financing adult education in Illinois," Bakalis said, "constitutional compliance will never be achieved. In Illinois there is no system which fully supports foundation level education for persons beyond the compulsory school age. But that is what we must have—and that is what the constitution requires."

The superintendent said the task force will recommend legislation to provide the broadest possible educational opportunity for adults.

He also discussed a report prepared for a U. S. Senate committee. Based on a study of 318 million persons, the report states persons who do not graduate from high school represent a loss of some $227 billion in personal income, federal, state and local tax revenue.

Important to Society
These figures, Bakalis said, point to the importance of adult and continuing education not just to the individual but to society as a whole.

those Americans who are educated—who do possess marketable skills—and who are overwhelmed with leisure time. And I am concerned about people who believe they have a right to terminate their education to rest snugly on their degrees and positions."

"In an age in which our knowledge doubles every five or ten years," Bakalis commented, "new competence is demanded of all people—be they lawyers, doctors, teachers, plumbers, or electricians—and that demand can only be met by a measure of re-education on a continuing basis."

SUE Director Speaks
At the conference's opening session, Robert S. Gilland, director of the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, spoke on "Basic Concepts for the Helping Professions."

Dr. Harold O. Spears, a member of the National Advisory Council on Adult Education, also presented a program, entitled "Adult Education: Neglected Members of the Education Family."

About 25 companies exhibited adult education equipment and materials and a wide variety of workshop sessions provided many opportunities for conference participants to "Share A New Vision," according to K. Duane Rankin, director of Venice-Lincoln Center, who headed the local delegation at the state meeting.

1. Many people buy in an area where building costs will take most of their savings or burden them with heavy monthly payments.

2. Many people buy a lot on the premise that it would be developed in two, five or ten years, and now that they are ready to retire, it's not completed; or they would be building in a vast area without any neighbors.

3. Many people buy in an area where their taxes, home maintenance, utilities, recreation, mortgage payment, food, etc., will amount to more than their retirement income.

MRS. WILLIAM LUKOWSKI. Her wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church Saturday afternoon. She is the former Miss Patricia J. Nowicki, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Nowicki, 49 Jenday Lane.

Revival Services
At Faith Chapel

Miss Patricia J. Nowicki, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Nowicki, 49 Jenday Lane, and William J. Lukowski, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lukowski, 3313 N. 62 St., East St. Louis, exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

The Rev. Henry Mack performed the double ring ceremony at 3 o'clock before an altar decorated with arrangements of white mums, pom poms and greenery. White satin bows marked the pews.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, the bride chose a beautifully fashioned gown of antique ivory, a cascade of soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace, elaborately beaded with seed pearls.

The high stand-up collar of lace extended into a center V effect on the sheer yoke of the Empire bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace. A scalloped edge detailed the high rise waistline and jeweled lace motifs enhanced the long tapered sleeves, ending in points at the wrists.

The A-line style skirt was embellished with seed pearls, and matching motifs encircled the hemline and accented the detachable length.

She wore an antique ivory camelot veil to secure a melody length veil of imported French bridal illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses and baby breath.

Maid of honor, Miss Mina Tarpoff, and bridesmaids, Misses Wilhemmyer, Jane Gabriel, Vickie Antonopoulos and Cheryl Penny, were groomed in identical dresses fashioned in ruby robe velvet.

The long sleeves, cuffed with ivory Cluny lace ruffles, were set into Empire bodices. The V necklines were trimmed in matching lace and closed with tiny velvet covered buttons. Full length skirts were softly gathered at the sides of the gowns.

They wore matching ruby robe hairbraids picture hats with deep crowns, banded in narrow velvet ribbon to form bows at the back and long streamers. Their colonial bouquets were arrangements of white pom poms, red Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

The groom chose William Krepper as his best man, Mike Trumpet, William Stroud, Tom Manion and Mike Alaiot served as groomsmen. Kenneth Maliszewski and Steven Nikonovich seated the guests.

Stacy and Steven Maliszewski, the flower girl and ring bearer. She wore a frock similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses and she carried a miniature bouquet.

Mrs. Nowicki chose for her daughter's wedding, a pale turquoise silk worsted coat and dress ensemble. The sleeveless skimmer, floor-length gown had a deep V-shaped mushroom collar of jewels and the full length coat was designed with brace-length sleeves and matching jeweled cuffs.

Comment and Analysis

Nov. 13, 1972

Fourth State Athletic Title for Granite City High School

All hail the victorious soccer Warriors. Just as it did previously in basketball, baseball and volleyball, Granite City High School added the Illinois state high school championship in soccer during the weekend.

President's Go-It-Alone Campaign Factor in Ogilvie Loss

If the federal government had moved faster and established a major new metropolitan airport at Columbus, Ill., would such a visible sign of Southwestern Illinois economic progress have given Governor Ogilvie the momentum to gain re-election?

If President Nixon had campaigned as often and as widely in Illinois as his opponent for the White House, and if he had emphasized his close working relationship with the state administration, would Mr. Ogilvie have won on Nov. 7?

The questions relate directly to the "let's not rock the boat" campaign by Mr. Nixon, whose phenomenal 40-state victory included Missouri; the first time in several decades, Missouri elected a Republican governor.

The questions also relate to the Nixon strategy of appealing to Democrats, independents and Republicans to support him, while avoiding a direct call for the election of fellow members of his party. This obviously contributed to the loneliness of the "lonely landlubber" he achieved.

The victorious gubernatorial candidate, Daniel Walker, earned his triumph by working around-the-clock for nearly two years contacting voters of all walks of life.

This kind of campaign was not possible for the busy Governor, who also was handicapped in areas like the Quad-Cities with only a skeletal party framework, nothing like the massive Democratic party structure in which many dozens of committees and others devote long hours to the task of maintaining a regular dialogue between voters and candidates. The election is the most grueling aspect of the election is that Mr. Ogilvie had to carry the full blame for a state income tax even though it was passed by a majority of many Democrats—and even though no leaders of either party have ever said that the tax could have been avoided.

Attorney General in Position to Seek Higher Office

The tremendous vote-getting ability of Attorney General William J. Scott at a time when the Republican party has lost both the governor and secretary of state offices would appear to make him a prime contender for the 1976-governor race, although he conceivably could try in 1974 for the U.S. Senate seat of Adlai Stevenson.

His principal disadvantage in either such race is that he would be facing an incumbent officeholder.

Another problem could be the basic strength of the Republican party. It will be patronage-poor, having lost both of the key state jobs post-Nov. 7 when Democratic Daniel Walker was elected as governor and Democrat Michael Howlett was chosen as secretary of state.

Democrats also hold such off-year state offices as treasurer and superintendent of public instruction. This situation might lead to the assumption that Scott and Howlett would elect George Lindbergh to be relegated to a primarily watchdog role, checking up on the conduct of other officials rather than initiating any programs of their own.

However, we would guess that innovation will continue. And it could be that the division of state offices between the two parties will prove an advantage to the public. Already, the attorney general has revived the idea of statewide grand juries, which also was espoused during the campaign by Mr. Walker.

fully, and assume all its responsibilities, we shall have a new hold on life.

"If God created the earth, it is hallowed, so must we deal with it devotedly and with care that we do not despoil it, and the mind of our relation to all beings that live on it."

"We are to consider it religiously. Put off your shoes from off your feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground."

Rev. Baumann continued in the article, "Dr. Bailey indicated that if our approach to the earth comes from the conviction that the earth is holy, the whole approach will be different than it would be if we look upon our world as merely the supplier of our material needs."

"This earth does not belong to us exclusively. There are many generations of folk yet to come after us, who will have equal right with us to the products of the globe."

"A divine obligation rests on every one of us, to make righteous use of the vast resources of our knowledge."

"We must stop from time to time to take a look at our earth and our relationship to it. Isn't it time we do it now?"

Rev. Baumann is a graduate of Elmhurst College and Eden Theological Seminary.

He served rural churches in Indiana and a church in Michigan before accepting the pastorate of St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed Church in Granite City in 1964.

During his 19 years in Granite City, Rev. Baumann served as first chairman of the board of the newly organized Illinois South Conference of the United Church of Christ.

In 1967, he was awarded honorary doctor of divinity degree from Eden Seminary and was one of 10 members chosen to represent the United Church of Christ

Often Overlooked, But Military Paved Road to Peace

Copley News Service

There is good reason to be pleased with the political process which has brought the United States and North Vietnam to what appears to be the brink of a settlement of the war in Indochina.

However, even as we applaud the skillful negotiations of the Administration, we must not overlook the basic reason why both sides are at the negotiating table.

What has been largely overlooked in the surge of optimism is the reality that has at long last brought the Communists to terms—the accomplishments of the allied military effort.

Last May, when he announced the signing of all North Vietnamese harbors by the United States, President Nixon said as a preliminary condition.

"Throughout the war in Vietnam, the United States has exercised a degree of restraint unprecedented in the annals of war."

The President was abundantly correct.

The fact is, the military forces of the United States, South Vietnam and other non-Communist nations which were assisting in repelling the Communist aggression from the North had one hand tied behind their backs and both ankles hobbled.

For much of the war, the bombing targets were specified from Washington.

Forces could not be employed according to the judgment of those responsible for conducting the operations.

National borders could not be crossed.

Troop and equipment build-ups often could not be attacked.

And the enemy's factories and agricultural resources vital to the war effort were "off limits."

Despite the restrictions, the allies took all that the enemy could throw at them, and, inch by inch won the military war.

Granted, definitions of the term "won" can vary.

Nevertheless, it is certain that the Communists would not be in Paris negotiating for peace if they believed that they had the best chance of winning the war through terrorism or force.

Our boredom with the war, the allies took all that the enemy could throw at them, and, inch by inch won the military war.

Seek Non-Property Taxes to Finance Public Schools

(Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois)

The Illinois House Finance Committee of Education Study Committee has as its purpose to study, evaluate and recommend proposals to finance public schools and junior colleges by means that do not depend primarily on local property taxes.

Naturally, such a study committee wants facts before it relative to what the major state taxes are producing.

The state income tax is estimated to yield $1.18 billion for fiscal 1973 (July 1, 1972 to July 1, 1973), $275 million from individuals and $234 million from corporations. An additional rate of 1% added to the present rate of 2 1/2% for individuals and 4% for corporations would produce an estimated $470 million.

The state sales tax (current 4 1/2% rate) is estimated to produce $1.176 billion in fiscal 1973. On this basis, an increase in rate of 1% would produce $294 million.

Such information is not a "Federation" recommendation, but facts for the committee to evaluate. Other facts also were presented to the committee.

The committee is made up of experienced legislators, and they need public cooperation.

Testimony presented to them as they conduct hearings around the state.

Their task is tremendous and is short, as they must make their report to the General Assembly in the early part of 1973.

Governor-Elect Exuded Enthusiasm, Capitalized on Voters' Discontent

Springfield—Split-ticket voting doomed Ogilvie.

That was the view from the Statehouse Dome as final returns confirmed the victory of Democrat Daniel Walker over Republican Gov. Richard S. Ogilvie in one of the most exciting governor's races in Illinois history.

Many reasons for the Ogilvie defeat will be offered in the days ahead, but the split-ticket factor clearly looms as a major factor.

The situation in Illinois reflected the pattern across the United States. In a number of important races in various states, voters—although swinging solidly behind President Nixon—split their tickets for Democratic state candidates.

Reflecting in Illinois as Democratic secretary of state candidate Michael J. Howlett named Walker in the winners' circle.

Although Walker's victory was a comparatively close one, Howlett won substantially.

And the twin Democratic triumph was remarkable when contrasted to the thunderous pluralities granted Republican Illinois winners, President Nixon, U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy and Atty. Gen. William J. Scott.

Ordinarily a presidential landslide of the magnitude of Nixon's would assure a sweep by his party of all Illinois state offices. But not in 1972.

Despite the general confidence in President Nixon, there has remained an under-the-surface feeling of discontent in the land.

And in Illinois, discontented voters "took it out" on the most handy target, Gov. Ogilvie.

It will be debated far into the future whether Gov. Ogilvie could have won, through a more effective campaign, "pulled it out." Maybe yes. Maybe no. No one will ever really know.

Richard Nixon's sweeping presidential victory is a vindication of his record as President and a repudiation of the "new politics."

There is no recognition that the moral question itself can be seen as one of a well-regulated society versus an open one.

And pragmatic questions, like how to deal with the watergate episode and the like failed to move voters.

On the issue like busing, the critics again see only a battle between good and evil, bigotry and tolerance.

It is accepted, however, that he did make a tremendous comeback.

Immediately after the March primary, polls reflected a shattering dip into a new low for Ogilvie, with 60% of the voters indicating support of Walker.

That Ogilvie closed the gap as much as he did is a remarkable achievement in itself.

But Illinois voters in recent years have shown an interesting inclination to split their votes and the 1972 election was tailor-made to stimulate that tendency.

Although the state income tax declined as a dominant issue, there remained lingering resentment against it and other taxes increases, with the governor inevitably being held responsible.

The apparent determination of thousands of voters not to entrust all offices to one party was clearly reflected in Illinois as Democratic secretary of state candidate Michael J. Howlett named Walker in the winners' circle.

Although Walker's victory was a comparatively close one, Howlett won substantially.

Dear Nana—Handicraft Items Made by Senior Citizens Make Excellent Gifts

Dear Nana: Some time ago you had a letter in your column from a lady who told all of her small gift shopping at a senior citizen center.

I think this is a marvelous way to help the elderly sell their handicraft products. And, I for one would certainly like the convenience of shopping in one place. However, as I'm not a senior citizen and never used their facilities I'm not familiar with their activities. Could you tell me if all the senior citizens center have a hobby shop and where can I find one in our area?—An Early Shopper

Dear Early Shopper: I'm sure the senior citizen center in your area will appreciate your thinking of them before you purchase your Christmas gifts. And, they do have many lovely items to choose from. Therefore, I suggest that you contact your citizen center in your city—which will be listed under the Department of Parks and Recreation. I'm sure they'll be able to give you the address of a senior citizen hobby shop that's convenient or nearby.

(Editor's note: Senior citizens display handicraft for sale at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA. Purchases may be made Friday mornings.)

Dear Nana: I'm writing this letter to share a poem with you. Since childhood I've written poetry and quite by accident today's poem may be of interest to you and your readers.

Dear Nana—Handicraft Items Made by Senior Citizens Make Excellent Gifts

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana: Some time ago you had a letter in your column from a lady who told all of her small gift shopping at a senior citizen center.

I think this is a marvelous way to help the elderly sell their handicraft products. And, I for one would certainly like the convenience of shopping in one place. However, as I'm not a senior citizen and never used their facilities I'm not familiar with their activities. Could you tell me if all the senior citizens center have a hobby shop and where can I find one in our area?—An Early Shopper

Dear Early Shopper: I'm sure the senior citizen center in your area will appreciate your thinking of them before you purchase your Christmas gifts. And, they do have many lovely items to choose from. Therefore, I suggest that you contact your citizen center in your city—which will be listed under the Department of Parks and Recreation. I'm sure they'll be able to give you the address of a senior citizen hobby shop that's convenient or nearby.

Consumer Education Topic of AAUW

"Consumer Education" with emphasis on training high school students to become acquainted with buying procedures and becoming better and smarter shoppers was discussed by Norman Owca of the Granite City High School faculty at a luncheon meeting Friday at the American Association of University Women.

Russia Losing Strong Man Role in World Relations

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Editor, Copley News Service

The men in the Kremlin, after years of supporting "Red China for United Nations membership and general acceptance in the world of relatively civilized nations, today must be wondering if their course was correct.

At the same time, those in the United States who so long have preached that the Soviet Union had both the will and the strength to conquer the free world must be less fearful of day.

The two developments are related as part of any periodic review of global power struggles and maneuvering although the recent behavior of Mao Tse-tung and his Peking associates has had the most impact on an emerging significant change in strategic positions.

For many years, Russia has been the strong man of the Red world with China operating in self-imposed isolation.

Specific Events

Four specific events, however, have changed that:

1. Peking's acceptance in the U. N. has given Mao a propaganda platform never before available.

2. President Nixon's visit to the mainland Chinese capital has given Mao and Premier Chou En-lai a cloak of respectability and entered to a previously strong anti-Peking Western world.

3. Establishment of Japanese-Red Chinese diplomatic relations, followed by West German acceptance of Peking, gives Peking a powerful place in market bidding for financial and technological cooperation and assistance.

4. Internal economic troubles that beset the Kremlin leaders and the continuing worry over 3,000 miles of nervous border with Red China present the Soviets with problems that reduce their capability to launch any military or economic adventure against the free world.

That the "China situation" has Moscow concerned is evident in everyday Soviet leadership behavior. Pravda, the mouthpiece of Soviet leadership, got its signals mixed the other day — all within four pages.

On its front page it noted the 33rd anniversary of Peking's victory over Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists with the words: "This struggle has always met with sincere sympathy, support and assistance from the Soviet Union."

Then, three pages later, Pravda charged that China is yielding to Western imperialism too much, and winds up saying, "Peking continues to pursue its anti-Soviet policy."

The Russians, too, cannot be celebrating over any Peking-Tokyo or Peking-Bonn relationship.

The Japanese and the Soviets have been negotiating for some time on cooperative development of resources in Siberia and the Russians have held off the Japanese, plus refusing to discuss a World War II peace treaty or return of Japanese northern islands seized a few days after the war ended in August, 1945.

Now the Japanese accommodation with Peking and the opportunity for Tokyo money and technology to invest in China changes the temper of any Japanese dealings with Russia.

The Japanese position is strengthened considerably.

Make Russia Nervous

Eventual German investment in and close association with Peking also cannot help but make the Russians nervous. The Russians perhaps fear a strong and spreading German influence more than any single development.

At the same time, President Nixon's overtures to Peking, with increased trade and official ties likely to come in the future, may cause the Soviet leadership to see itself slipping into the weaker position once held by Peking among the Red giants.

These developments, when put together, give China more time for attention to a major problem facing Peking — that 3,000 miles of border with Russia and the hundreds of thousands of Soviet troops along the border.

Charles R. Smith, respected United Press International Far East reporter, pointed to this recently as he wrote regarding the border dispute, with its occasional armed clashes. "Both sides have been unbending and little, if any, progress has been made."

Friendly relations with Japan and reduction of tension with the United States enable the Soviets to concentrate more on Sino-Soviet problems.

As all of this adds up to prob-

Europe Fears U.S. Trade Encroachment

By THOMAS NUZUM
Copley News Service

Paris — Europeans are bracing in case a transatlantic storm blows up.

They wonder if Europe's economic boat won't be rocked by President Nixon's moves to balance U.S. trade at the expense of Europe's, and to force open the European market for U.S. farmers.

New fears spread when Mr. Nixon's special trade negotiator William Eberle lashed a strongly dissenting opinion on to recommendation of 12 "wise men" who had been conferring for a year at the Paris headquarters of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

These experts really were unofficial representatives of Western European government, Japan, Canada and the United States. So Eberle's dissent might be the death knell of hopes for a trade and monetary agreement.

Concerning difficulties of the U. S. dollar, the 11 other "sages" did agree with Eberle that there are two sides to the coin. They recommended that countries with trade surpluses divert some of their surplus to plug America's trade deficit.

In other words, they admitted that there is some merit to Washington's contention that America cannot export more unless other countries reduce barriers keeping out U. S. goods.

Contrary to Principles

The experts also conceded that it is contrary to principles of free trade for Europe to retain tariffs that keep out U. S. food, the main thing that the United States produces more efficiently and at lower cost than anybody else.

But most of the Europeans contended that throwing open the door to U. S. crops now would force too many small European farmers off the land, create widespread unemployment and unrest.

So food tariffs should be reformed later when European farms have grown big and efficient enough to withstand U. S. competition, it was suggested.

That might take a century at the present rate.

It has taken 20 years for France's farms, the biggest in Western Europe, to increase in size from an average of 40 acres to 50. Farms three times that size are considered too small to be efficient in the United States.

Report Defines Issues

The report "clearly defines the issues" and can serve as a stepping-stone over the present trade and monetary distortions, commented Eberle.

But the experts disagreed whether to take the necessary steps now or later, he complained.

Despite the deadlock, Washington hopes to wrest commitment from the Europeans soon to take the necessary steps in the course of the next 10 to 15 years, Eberle told this reporter.

Serious negotiations cannot start until April, he said, after the U.S., French and Japanese elections are past. The real crunch will come then, European business magazines are predicting.

Eberle's criticism of Europe was in part a pre-election maneuver to show U.S. farmers that the Nixon administration is going to bat for them, alleged the French daily France Soir.

But Eberle was also serving notice on European governments that Mr. Nixon would "play his cards terribly close to his vest in the trade negotiations opening next year," said the newspaper.
